

CONGRESSMAN LEV EJECTED FROM CAR

Entered Wrong Aisle and Refused to Step Out Into Rain at Conductor's Request.

Congressman Jefferson Levy of New York, was ejected from a Fourteenth street car by Conductor Norman V. Foster last night as the car was leaving New Jersey avenue and B street south-east.

Refusal of the Congressman to enter through the outside aisle after he had stepped inside the railroad inclosure on the east side was responsible for the display of force by the conductor.

The car was held up several minutes while Congressman Levy and the conductor were engaged in a heated argument. A drizzling rain was falling and the Congressman refused to step back into the rain to enter through the other side.

When Conductor Foster threatened to use force in ejecting him, Mr. Levy declared: "You can't use force; I'm a member of Congress."

Several of Mr. Levy's colleagues started for the rear platform to give him assistance, but before they arrived the conductor had shoved Mr. Levy from the platform and the car was started.

Congressman Levy insisted the conductor had taken his fare and then refused him permission to ride. Conductor Foster denied Mr. Levy's fare had been taken.

Retired Barber Tries To Commit Suicide

Abel C. Osborne, seventy-six, a retired barber, attempted to end his life this morning by cutting his throat with a small kitchen knife while in the woodshed in the rear of his home, 1606 Tenth street northwest.

Mr. Osborne was suffering from palsy for the last four years and had been unable to work at his trade. In spite of this affliction, he conducted a barber shop at 1718 Pennsylvania avenue northwest up to five weeks ago when he sold the business. Since then he had brooded over his physical condition.

Navy Recruiting List Still on the Increase

The tremendous increase in the number of applicants for enlistment in the navy following the first news that there might be war with Mexico, still continues despite the fact that there now seems little probability of war, according to reports from the Baltimore naval recruiting station. An average of fifty applications a week is still being maintained there, it is stated.

Two Widows of Former Presidents in Europe

With official announcement that Mrs. Benjamin Harrison is safe at St. Graves, Haze, the thought struck officials of the State Department that there are two widows of former Presidents among the Americans stranded abroad, the widow of President Cleveland having been reported safe to the department in dispatches several days ago.

Among others officially reported as safe to the State Department today were Mrs. Schumann-Heink, the American prima donna, at Bayreuth; Mayor Rice, of New Haven, and Senator Oliver of Pennsylvania, at London. The Hamburg consul reported Americans there well and cheerful.

Arrested in New York On Bad Check Charge

Accused of passing several small worthless checks on installment houses in this city, John W. Gardner, a salesman, whose home is said to be in South Carolina, was arrested today in New York, according to a dispatch received at police headquarters. Detective Boyle has gone to New York for the prisoner.

About two months ago Graham was married and left on his honeymoon. A few days later several merchants reported checks Gardner had given them, amounting to about $80, appeared to be worthless.

DRAFTS DECREE TO SPLIT UP NEW HAVEN

McReynolds Prepares Agreed Order Following Surrender by Directors.

Attorney General McReynolds today began the preparation of an agreed decree to dissolve the New Haven railroad system, after receiving word from New York last night that the directors had decided not to fight the anti-trust suit filed last month.

The capitulation of the New Haven directors will make possible the peaceful settlement of the road's affairs on practically the same basis as that arranged by the reorganization agreement perfected last January, except that the time for the sale of the Boston and Maine stock owned by the New Haven will be reduced from two and a half years to one year.

If at the end of the year the stock is not sold, the matter will be taken into court and the duty will devolve upon the court of determining the conditions of sale. If the matter is thus brought to the court, a means will be provided for testing the act of the Massachusetts legislature in requiring the stamping of each share of stock with an agreement by the purchaser to sell to the State on demand.

The question of allowing the New Haven to retain its sound steamship line will be permitted to retain the New York and New England railroad and the Rutland railroad. Plans for proceeding criminally against the directors of the New Haven, who are charged with responsibility for organizing the monopoly, will not be dropped.

Marines to Santo Domingo To Aid Peace Envoys

Secretary of the Navy Daniels has ordered the transport Hancock, with a regiment of marines from Guantanamo, Cuba, to Santo Domingo, City to await the arrival of President Wilson's peace commission, now en route, which will attempt to bring the Dominican revolution to an end. The marines will not be landed, according to present plans, but will remain in the harbor with the gunboats Castine and Marietta as a warning that the United States is in earnest in its effort to halt the revolutionary disturbances in the island.

THE FISHERMAN'S GUIDE

Weather Forecast—Fair and cooler tonight; Thursday fair with moderate temperatures.

Condition of Potomac—Clear. Wind—Gentle to moderate winds becoming north and northeast.

High Tide—12:04 a. m.—12:27 p. m.
Low Tide—6:45 a. m.—6:51 p. m.

Several bass fishing parties from Washington enjoyed a day on the river yesterday. Those who went to points close at hand were not as highly rewarded as those who went afar.

The Thurston steel plant fishing grounds, below the point of the island, entertained several sportsmen. A few bass were caught principally on live bait, and a number of pan rockfish were taken, although none of the fishermen returned with large strings.

A successful day was spent at Goose creek, about four miles east of Leesburg, by a couple of Washington fishermen. About a dozen nice bass were taken, the largest weighing in the vicinity of three pounds, with the smallest ranging well over a pound. The water is reported clear, and, apparently, it will repay any of the local anglers who may wish to take the trip.

There is a good opportunity for a couple of hours' sport in Little river, opposite Georgetown. There are some good bass in that stream, and as it is so accessible, it should be well worth the angler's time, after office hours, to give the place a whirl.

The following places bear the reputation of being good fishing grounds: (1) "The Parlor," a pool above Boiling Rock, straight out from Fletcher's. The water is deep and swift, and the pool bears its name because the fish are known to congregate there. (2) Middle Rock, above the Chain Bridge. It is well to arrange to have a boat taken up on the flood tide, as it is impossible to make headway against an ebb tide. (3) "The Hen and Chickens," off the point of the powerhouse near Fletcher's; water 40 to 50 feet deep and very swift. Care must be exercised. (4) Near the ladder, at the Chain Bridge, opposite the branch on the Virginia side. (5) Opposite the point of Annapolis Island, along the bend of the river. Water about thirty feet deep. (6) Near the Thurston steel plant, at junction of Potomac and Eastern Branch. (7) The Tidal Basin. Boats and bait may be obtained at the Speedway bathhouse, at the western end of the basin. (8) The Dyke between Alexandria and Mt. Vernon. Boats may be obtained near Car Station. (9) Occoquan, above the bridge.
